DEADLINE: 04.09.2020

What?

Play is the rocket fuel for children's development and learning, yet many urban environments lack a city-wide strategy and opportunities to play.

Are you ready to share the state of play in your city? PlacemakingX is looking for professional and amateur photographers around the world to capture play in cities

The Real Play City Challenge Photography contest is open to amateur photographers around the world who are 18 years old or older.

How?

Fill in the form at the Real Play City Challenge page and post your picture on Instagram and Twitter using the hashtags: #RealPlayCityChallenge and #Amateur

Rules

- 1 The photograph must be yours, original, previously unpublished work and not feature or focus on any material owned or controlled by third parties.
- 2 Your photograph must capture play in cities. Show us the interaction between children and caregivers and, how the built environment influences children's development!
3. You will hold all copyrights and intellectual property on your work and grant PlacemakingX and its affiliates and partners a royalty-free, worldwide, irrevocable, perpetual, non-exclusive license to use it as listed in the rules of this contest.
4. We strongly advise not to show children's faces in the photograph. If you do so, please fill in this consent form and upload it with your submission.
5. Don't forget to accept your prize by sending us a mail within 48 hours after being notified as winner. Transfer costs are included in the prize.

Prize

- Opportunity to show your photograph in the Real Play City Challenge digital gallery.
- Include your photograph as part of the communication material for the Real Play City Challenge and reach an international audience.

Ten (10) photographs will be awarded a prize.
€50 per winning photograph.
